300 bags of Buck Wheat,

echoed, with a look of horror. Don't you know, Mrs. Jones, that my income is exactly twelve hundred a year. In Chestnut street, three fourths of that income would be consumed for rent?"

"What say you to Spruce street?"
"Impossible."
"Walnut?"
"No."
"Pine?"
"No."
"Arch?"
"No."

"You needn't say another word, Jacob. I know by your looks, that you have made up your mind to go into some mean, shabby disreputable neighborhood."

"You are mistaken my dear. I have my eye on one of the nicest, gentlest, sweetest houses you ever saw."

"Just tell me where it is?"
"Before I answer your question, my love I must—"

"Will you tell me where that house is—yes or no?"

"Only hear!"

"No I won't."

"Just one!"

"No!"

Unfortunately, I am of an excitable temperment. I jumped to my feet—accidentally, trod on the tail of my wife's pet dog—and not only kicked the poor wretch for setting up a piercing howl, but the kick was accompanied by an expletive, which I am reminded of to this very day. The room paced hurriedly, and by savage threats and stern resolves—disjoined and but half expressed, it is true—I endeavored to force my wife into submission. It is almost unnecessary to add, that the attempt ended as all previous attempts had ended, in complete and lamentable failure. First came a white handkerchief—then tears—then sobs—and then a brief, broken, but still graphic sketch of her sufferings and my villainies.

"I never know now—[sob] what it is to have—[sob] a happy moment—[sob] You treat me—[sob] worse than a brute—[sob] If my father knew—[sob] how you swore—[sob] at me—"

"I—I—swear, Mrs. Jones? I never swore in my life. I only said something to the dog."

"You can't suppose—[sob]—upon me any longer—[sob] you looked at me when you—[sob]—said it. It's a peice—[sob]—with all the rest—[sob] You used to stay at home—[sob]—with me, but now you are out—every night of your life—[a succession of violent sobs.]

"I was amazed—horror struck—appalled at this change, and in a low, meek voice replied—"

"Mrs. Jones, you know—you ought to know—that I have not been out of this house a single night for two months, except last evening when I was compelled to go to the office to make up our balance sheet."

"What was that play-bill [sob] doing in your hat last night [sob] if you were at the of—of—[sob]—[loud and prolonged sobbing.]

Concluded to-morrow.

DIGNITY.—Some men are dignified—very. But what is dignity? It is not to feel yourself superior to a neighbor and seldom condescend to speak with him. It is not to wear a sober face and think it betrays weak mind to laugh. True dignity consists in treating all men with respect; in receiving and returning favors—no matter from whom received or to whom returned—the rich and accomplished—the poor and illiterate—we love real dignity wherever we find it. Generally it is often banished from those whose actions it ought to govern.

Judge E. W. M. King, of the Memphis criminal court, made a furious assault upon Mr. C. Irving, editor of the Enquirer, for some animalization upon the judge's interference in elections. He discharged three barrels of a revolving pistol at him, one of which took effect in the wrist, and used his cane very freely besides. The judge is a stout gentleman, and the editor small and weakly.

PRIZE PROBLEM. If 5 yards make a perch how many will make a trout.

If 16 drachms make a pennyweight, how many will make a creditor wait?

If 2 hogsheds make a pipe, how many will make cigar?

THE DAILY NEWS.

Newport:

THURSDAY MARCH 23, 1843.

BY O. F. JACKSON, ST-THAMES ST.

Advertisers will please bear in mind that the circulation of the DAILY NEWS is more than DOUBLE that of the Daily Herald, and greater than the combined circulation of the Daily and Weekly Herald. As one proof of this fact, the list of Letters remaining in the Post-Office is advertised in the NEWS, as BY LAW REQUIRED.

PRINTERS AND THE FRENCH REVOLUTION.

A letter published in the London Chronicle, dated Paris, February 21st, after stating the general aspect of things in that city, and the fear that a revolution was about to break out, says:

"Another and a very serious cause of alarm is with respect to the working compositors and pressmen of Paris. They are a very formidable and a very turbulent body, amounting to upwards of sixteen thousand men. Hitherto they have taken little or no part in the affair of the reform banquet; but to-day they have given notice in almost all the printing establishments that they will not be at their work to-morrow, as they have to attend the procession to the Champs Elysees. They are almost all communists and socialists, and I need not remind you that they were the first movers and the principal contributors to the revolution of July."

Printers, as a general thing, are more closely bound together than any other class of mechanics. In our larger cities they have their Typographical Associations and established prices for work, which all who belong to the Association strictly adhere to.

Printers, as a general thing are whole-souled, free-hearted fellows, hardly knowing the worth of money; in this respect, resembling the sailor very much. They work hard for their money, and it goes freely. It has often been remarked, in letters written from Mexico, that there are more printers among the volunteers in the army than any other class of mechanics, and is not this a good evidence that they are brave and patriotic?

The British government, through the British consul at Boston, has awarded £500 sterling to the owners, master and crew of American bark Byron, Capt. Read, of Stonington, Conn., and a gold medal to Capt. Read, for their humane exertions in rescuing eighteen British seamen wrecked on the coast of Patagonia. Mr. Elliot has also been directed by the British government to give £100 sterling to the owners of schooner Leander, of Boston, for rescuing and taking into port the crew of the British brig Lelia.

The Monterey Gazette of the 16th mentions the shooting of a Mexican at that place, in the morning of the 18th ult., by a sentinel on post, under the following circumstances:—The Mexican, on horseback armed and equipped with gun, sabre, &c., undertook to pass the sentinel. The sentinel hailed, and at the third call, the Mexican, spurring his horse, turned his head and said—"Me no care for you." The sentinel fired, and the ball entered the Mexican's back, and passing through his heart, killed him instantly. It was afterwards ascertained that he was one of the guards to a merchant's train going to Saltillo, which was on the eve of starting.

THE SEA SERPENT.—The original Sea Serpent has been engaged for the coming season to "lay off and on" at the beach, for the amusement of bathers. He made his appearance off there on Sunday, and was thought by some to be a whale, or rather a whaler, as the expression is more commonly used,—seventy-five feet long. Nahant must go down, as a watering place, and the editor of the Boston Post will have to come to Newport this season, if he wants to get a glimpse of his snakeship.

The Mississippi river uses up more steamboats than all the other rivers in this country. Almost every mail from the South brings intelligence of the snagging and sinking of more or less boats on this river.

(Correspondence of the News.)
New York, March 21st, 1843.

Ma. Editor—

The arrival of the Cambria, bringing the important news of another revolution in France, has created great excitement in this city. The French residents, generally, are pleased with the determination of the people not to permit the "citizen king" to enroach upon their rights and liberties. But the uncertainty as to the true character of the revolution, and as to how far the people of the country generally, sympathize with those of Paris, makes them feel anxious. They are apprehensive that the next steamer will bring accounts of fearful scenes having been enacted. They well know that a revolution in France is a very serious affair, and a Parisian mob is not to be trifled with; a partial success may encourage them to leads such as can only be equalled in the history of France and during the "forty days revolution."

The arrival of the next steamer will be looked for with intense interest.

On Saturday evening the Frenchmen in New York turned out and made strong demonstrations of joy over the news. French flags were displayed from the French hotels, and from some stores, and meetings were held at several places. Windows were illuminated with candles at every pane, and transparencies were hung out, with inscriptions on them, evidencing their joy at the event. Marseilles Hymn, and other French patriotic airs were to be heard where a Frenchman was to be seen. The Irish repealers also must have a finger in the pie, so they congregated in numbers; speeches were made, and the revolution was deemed a precursor of good times coming for old Ireland. The repeal movement which has slumbered for sometime past, has received a new impetus.

There has been two very frightful accidents occurred here yesterday and to-day. The first—was the burning of the steamboat Raritan, in the bay. Being unfortunately very near Bedlow's Island, the boat was run ashore, in time to have saved the lives of all the passengers, even if assistance had not been rendered by other boats. It is reported that one man (fireman) is missing, which is the extent of human life lost. There were a number of cattle on board, most of which were burnt to death.

This morning as the Philadelphia mail train was passing over Passaic bridge, it was discovered that the draw-bridge was open, and before the train could be stopped, the engine, tender, and platform car were precipitated into the river. Fortunately the coupling broke, and the power applied to the breaks stopped the train containing passengers, or the loss of life must have been very great. There was but one life lost, and that a fireman, who belonged on board the Raritan; had barely escaped being burned to death yesterday, and who was returning to New Brunswick to his family.

The man whose duty it was to be on the look out at the draw, and show a signal when the draw was open, was not at his post through some cause not yet explained.

Yours &c. MANHATTAN.

BURGLARY. A bold outrage was perpetrated on the night of the 16th inst. at the house of Benjamin Fenner, which was broken into by five armed men. Two entered the house and three remained on guard without. Mr. Fenner and his two sisters, all aged persons, were the only inmates of the house. The robbers being disappointed in their expectations of booty, abused the persons in the house, bruising them all more or less. They found only a small sum of money in bank bills and a peice of cloth, which they carried off. The Governor has offered a reward of five hundred dollars for the apprehension of the villains.—Prov. Journal.

Steamship Herman sailed on Tuesday from New York for Bremen, with 17 passengers, no specie, and but little freight.

The Boston post says that Mr. Giles's lecture on Woman, Monday evening, was extremely interesting and amusing. It was attended by a very large audience.

Worcester has accepted of a city charter by a vote of 1026 to 487, more than a two-thirds vote. Will Newport do as well when her city charter comes to be voted for?

An elopement in high life came off in Roxbury, Mass., last week, which has created quite an excitement there. We have not learnt the names of the parties. None but the romantic ever elope.

Thirtieth Congress—First Session.

SENATE—21st—In the Senate, Mr. Hale presented sundry abolition petitions, which were laid on the table; also a petition from citizens of Pennsylvania praying for an immediate and peaceful dissolution of the Union, which was laid on the table.

A petition was presented by Mr. Dix from citizens of New York praying for a line of steamers to Marseilles, which was referred to the post office committee.

Mr. Atherton moved to take up the deficiency bill, which was agreed to. After slight amendments the bill was then read a third time and passed.

The loan bill was made the special order of the day for to-morrow, and the Senate adjourned.

House.—Mr. Clingman rose to a privileged question and moved to reconsider the vote respecting the printing of the message, and Trist and Scott correspondence. Mr. Jacob Thompson followed.

Mr. Haskell commented with severity upon the conduct of the administration in regard to the war and treatment of Gen. Taylor, and charged the President with all the blood spilt. Mr. McLane replied and the House adjourned.

The Montgomery, Ala., Whig of 15th inst. says, "On Sunday night, George Baker, of this village, eloped with a Mrs. Rood Baker leaves a wife and two children; Mrs. Rood has had three or four husbands, some of which are still alive. They are both interesting subjects."

G. W. Kendall, of the New Orleans Picayune, took passage in the Britannia for Liverpool. He has gone over to Paris, to procure engravings for a history which he is preparing of the Mexican war, and which he means to publish simultaneously in Europe and the United States.

DEAD SEA EXPEDITION.—U. S. ship Supply arrived at Port Mahon January 6 from Gibraltar, and would sail about the first of February for the east. Commander Lynch had been sick of the small pox, but was recovering. There were no other cases on board; the ship had been thoroughly cleaned and fumigated.

The steamer Raritan, the burning of which we gave an account yesterday, was valued at $70,000.

The stars and stripes were hoisted in several quarters of Paris during the late revolution.

The Governor of Maine has appointed the 13th of April as a day of fast.

To enable Manhood to Die of Old Age without Disease.—The public may not be aware that the Rev. B. Hibbard's Vegetable Pills are the very best Family Medicine extant; perfectly reliable in every emergency. No one can foresee the moment when they or their children may be attacked. Disease comes like a thief in the night, and in times of peril, anxiety and danger, it is a relief to the mind to have at hand a remedy so certain, prompt, and efficient in warding off as well as curing disease. Ship Fever, Typhus Fever, Congestive and Bilious Diseases are rife throughout the land. To travellers, emigrants, soldiers, and families, we say neglect not to provide yourself with so potent a pacifier of the blood; so safe, mild, and universal a remedy as these sovereign Vegetable Pills. Remember the name of Rev. B. Hibbard is on the label of each box. All others are spurious. T. R. Hibbard, M. D., 96 John-st., New York, proprietor. See advertisement in an Nhercolumn.

CAUTION.—The public are particularly cautioned against being imposed upon by persons that are selling preparations of Sarsaparilla which they pretend have the same qualities as Dr. Williams' Sarsaparilla and Tonic. Since these Bitters have been offered to the public, there have been no less than four different imitations got up by as many different individuals, and sold for the genuine. The good qualities of Dr. Williams' Sarsaparilla and Tonic, are already known and appreciated by physicians and the public; particularly by those who have used them for impurities of the blood, bad humors, Scrofulous diseases, Bilious affections, Constipation, loss of appetite, &c. There has been no medicinal sold that has given such general satisfaction. There cannot be the least doubt, but that compound is the best alternative now in use. We have abundant proof of that fact. There have been thousands of cases of impurities of the blood cured by this medicine. Some of them have been truly wonderful, where the patients have been given over as incurable. The above compound is not merely a common extract of Sarsaparilla, but a very strong extract of the best Spanish Sarsaparilla, extracted by an entirely new apparatus, made expressly for the proprietor, and used by no other person in this country. This apparatus ensures the whole medical qualities of this most valuable root.

One of the most important effects of the recent progress of Science is the alliance of Chemistry with Physiology. By which a new and unexpected light has been thrown upon the vital processes of animals. For this we are indebted chiefly to the German and French chemists. We have now a clear understanding of the different action of aliments, poisons, and remedial agents, and the long derided theory of the blood being the portion of the system upon which the latter should act, is now a demonstrated truth. The great object, therefore, is ascertain what remedy will act most directly upon the constituents of the blood when in the act of combination. Experience, observation, and a cloud of witnesses establish the fact that SAND'S SARSAPARILLA, is at the very head of this class. Cancer, scrofula, salt rheum, erysipelas, leprosy, ringworm, mercurial diseases, suppurations of the glands, swellings of the joints, and all the diseases of the muscles and tissues, together with general debility of the system, yield to this unflinching purifier of the blood—for the blood is the channel through which disease finds its way to the various organs of the body.

Prepared and sold by A. B. & D. SANDS, Druggists, 100 Fulton st. N. Y.

Sold also by Dr. R. R. Hazard and R. J. Taylor for Newport, by J. Russell, Fall River, by C. Dyer, For sale by R. J. TAYLOR.

JONES'S SOAP. Ladies in the country and watering places, See how the sun has burnt your faces! Look at your necks—how yellow, dark with tan. Why, I will repulse the love of any man! Those freckles, too, you know they'd quickly fly If Jones's Soap you'd use; come once do try! It costs but fifty cents, and I am told It's worth, aye, doubly worth, its weight in gold.

Persons who have had no faith in it, have been astounded at the wonderful effect of Jones's Soap—that is, the genuine Jones's Soap—in purifying the skin. For sale by Dr. R. J. Taylor.

Phalon's Chemical Hair Invigorator.
A REMEDY for all diseases of the Hair, and is restorative in all cases where baldness is not beyond the reach of art.
Naught with beauty can compare,
With soft, glossy locks of hair;
If not endowed with such by nature,
Use Phalon's Hair Invigorator.

The subscriber having devoted a considerable portion of his time for twenty years to the study of the skin and the human hair, also the best means of treating and curing the same, and having, in the course of his experiments made various changes and improvements in the different articles approved as the best for such purposes, has at length, after laborious research and deep investigation, succeeded in bringing to perfection a composition, the virtues of which he challenges the world to excel.

The Chemical Hair Invigorator is composed of a number of vegetable ingredients of opposite qualities, and approved by the highest medical standard, the secret of blending and combining, which is known only to the subscriber, who has spared neither pains nor expense in bringing it before the public.

The Invigorator is an article in which a cleansing and purifying wash is beautifully blended with a most delicate, silky and glossy moisture of the hair never before attained, yet free from animal grease or essential oils. It cleanses the pores of the skin, causes a healthy action of the blood vessels, nerves, &c., which free the hair, thereby preventing baldness and gray hair, entirely frees the skin from scurf, dandruff and other cutaneous diseases, disposes the hair to curl, and keeps it so—will positively change the hardest hair into the most soft and healthy and glossy state, also imparts to it a darker color, and a free use of it will keep both the skin and hair in a healthy and luxuriant state until the last period of life.

Ladies will find the Invigorator a great addition to the toilet, both on account of its delicate and agreeable perfume, and the great facilities it affords in dressing the hair, which when moistened with the Invigorator can be dressed in any required form, so as to preserve its place whether plain or in curls. When used on children's heads it lays the foundation of a good head of hair.

Invented and prepared by EDWARD PHALON, professor of Wig Making and Hair Cutting, 61 Broadway, New York.

Mutual Benefit Life Insurance Co.
(Office No. 21 Wall-st. N. Y.)
A life insurance policy is a contract between the insured and the insurer, by which the insured pays a certain sum of money to the insurer, and the insurer, in return, promises to pay a certain sum of money to the insured or to his heirs, in the event of his death.
1. Those in good health, of the proper age, and of sound constitution, will be insured at the lowest rate of premiums.
2. The premium, if over $50, can be paid one-fourth in cash, and three-fourths in a secured note at 12 months, bearing 6 per cent interest, and subject to assessment if required, or it may be paid weekly, monthly, or quarterly.
3. Annual division of profits in scrip certificates which bear 6 per cent interest, and if required a loan of two-thirds on the scrip will be made in cash, or the profits can be added to increase the sum insured.
4. No persons are liable beyond the amount of their premium.
5. Married women may insure the lives of their husbands, secure from any demands of their creditors, if the premium does not exceed $300 per annum.
6. Creditors may insure their debtors, or debtors themselves, for the protection of creditors.
7. An insurance can be made so that the sum insured will be paid on attaining a specified age, or sooner in the event of death.
8. All claims on policies will be paid three months after notice and proof of death.
9. No risk will be taken on any one life exceeding $5000, until the surplus profits amount to $50,000; then the amount of risk on a single life will be gradually extended as the funds of the Company augment.
10. No Director or Officer can obtain a loan of the Company.
11. When the net profits of the Company amount to $200,000, the excess will be applied towards the redemption of Scrip, giving priority to that first issued; but the amount of $200,000, in addition to the reinsurance fund, will be kept as a permanent fund, in which the members have a pro rata interest.
12. The funds of the Company to be invested by the Finance Committee in bonds and first mortgages on unencumbered real estate, the actual value of which is twice the amount loaned—or in stocks of the United States, or of the States of N. York, New Jersey, Massachusetts, and Maine, or loaned to members on their Scrip.
13. No part of the profits is withheld, or diverted from the assured in any way.
14. There is no stock or loan, either nominal or real, to pay interest for; the company having ample capital in the premiums received.
15. It enables a man to provide for a wife and children, in such a way that although he may lose all, they are safe; and all persons, whether married or unmarried, to provide for old age, sickness, and want, as well as for death.
16. It does not reckon the assured a year older than he is—but from six months less; so six months more; so as to equalize the same between all parties.
17. It pays no directors, auditors, or solicitors.
18. A portion of the directors and the officers are chosen yearly, and the members vote according to interest.
19. The assured can surrender the policy at any time after a term of years, and receive its equitable value.
20. Every precaution is taken to prevent a forfeiture of policy.

The Mutual Benefit Life Insurance Company, is authorized by its charter to make all and every insurance appertaining to or connected with life risks, of whatever kind or nature, and will grant annuities and make endowments, as by the Act of Incorporation, passed the 30th January, 1845.
The Directors of this Company, deeply impressed with the very great, useful, and growing importance to the community at large of Life Insurance, would call to attention of the public to the following observations and principles, as intended to explain to them its peculiar advantages, and the particular features of this valuable institution. It is seen above how extensive the privileges are, reaching to every risk appertaining to or connected with life; guarding and supporting infancy to old age, in all grades of professions and trades; orphans, widows and their children, by a small annual investment, on the principle of Mutual Benefit, arising from Mutual Insurance, being a self-protective society. In this there is no Money Stock; the funds or capital arise from premiums paid in when persons make insurance, and these form the means to make payments on policies, grant loans, pay expenses, and yield profits. All persons insured become members, but are not liable beyond the amount of the premiums to be paid by them. The books of the company are open to them, to see that the sums paid, or securities received, are deposited or invested according to the charter, and the net profits, at fixed periods, are divided among them, as hereafter explained. The table of figures, and the rules, are made and calculated with accuracy, after the experience and practice of old English companies, and all persons can see by them how much they have to pay, and the claims they will be likely to receive. This plan is taken of the Savings Bank and Mutual Insurance, according to the security of the one, and gain of the other, and is entirely benevolent in its operation; it also embraces a provision for Married Women to insure the lives of their husbands for any amount, the premium of which shall not exceed $300 per annum, and is secured to them against any demands in law, of creditors.
The greatest portion of society, who by daily exertions of in industry earn support, as artisans and mechanics, deriving livelihood from personal labor and skill, seldom resort to Life Insurance, in any numbers, for a future provision for their families, though in none would it be so important as to them, who, by sickness and death, may in a day, leave those nearest and dearest to them in poverty. To men in mercantile pursuits and those in professional or business of every rank and class, or those who have uncertain or small incomes, and who are most numerous in wealth in the aggregate, and have it in their power to provide against the vicissitudes they are constantly exposed to, Life Insurance is also of the utmost importance; they, and those in lower circumstances, are often deterred from entering into contracts of insurance, as the advantages appear remote—being contingent on death, or ability to pay the premiums.
To assist all such, this Mutual Benefit society, so arranges the payment of the premiums, and of returns, in part of the same, as to enable all persons to become members, and enjoy its advantages while living; thus protecting themselves in life, and providing for their families after their death; in this way a short life may obtain, and leave to heirs the benefit of a long one.
This Company will grant insurances on lives, on the Mutual principle, to applicants upon their own lives, or the lives of others, for the whole duration of life, or for a limited period, at the rates specified in the tables, for sound and healthy persons. Also, any person in sound health may insure $500 for life upon his own or his wife's life, or the wife upon the life of her husband, of the age of thirty years, (and in like proportion for other ages,) by paying 25 cents weekly, or on $1000 by paying 50 cents weekly, the policy always remaining with the Company, with the premiums paid endorsed thereon; and in case of death they will be entitled to the amount thus insured, deducting therefrom the balance remaining of weekly payments, with interest, for the current year. No risk will be taken on a single life for more than $5,000, until the profits of the Company amount to $50,000, after which, according to the profits, the amount will be gradually extended to a sum not exceeding $15,000.

The better to enable all persons to insure, the Company will annually issue Scrip certificates, of estimated profits, bearing interest at 6 per cent.—Whenever the accumulation of net profits of the Company shall exceed the sum of $200,000, the excess may be applied from year to year, or semi-annually thereafter, towards the redemption of each year's certificates of scrip, in whole or in part, as may be determined on by the board of directors, priority to be given to the scrip first issued. The insured may borrow from the Company on his scrip, two thirds of the amount of the same at any time, which will enable him to use a portion of his profits for the payment of his annual premium, even before the redemption of the scrip. All classes of persons will thus be admitted and enabled to meet the premiums, and have the gain of the Savings Bank, with the profit on a large business, by an actual small investment or outlay of money.
All claims for insurance will be paid three months after satisfactory evidence of the death of the persons deceased is exhibited and approved.
Should it any time be desirable for a person to sell his policy, where it is for life, the Company will purchase the same at an equitable rate.
Parties insured at the table rates of premiums, are not to pass south of the Southern line of Virginia and Kentucky, or east of the Mississippi River, between the first day of June and first day of November; but can visit any part of the United States or Northern British Provinces, between the first of November and first of June. By the payment of an extra premium, insurances can be effected by persons who desire to reside South during the interdicted time.
All persons whose lives are insured by this company, are permitted to travel on any of the regular mail routes, (within the limits prescribed in the policy) or on any of the Northern or Upper Lakes, by steamboat or other common mode of conveyance.
Extra hazardous risks will be taken on persons going out, or residing out of the limits of the policy, and embracing all parts of the world; also on all persons going to sea, and such other risks as may be specially agreed for, being more hazardous, to be expressed in their policies. The extra premiums to be computed upon equitable principles.
Insurances will be made on the lives of Military and Naval Officers, off or on duty, in time of peace, the premium to be settled according to circumstances of climate, locality, &c., as they may be more or less hazardous.
What can better illustrate the wise disposition of the Supreme Being, in the varying term of human life, than the certainty of the general laws that regulate its duration, and the reflections that arise from the contemplation of these laws operating constantly upon the human race? Life Insurance then rests upon the simple fact, that every individual of the human race has, at the period of his birth, a certain term of existence, which he will live through, or what is called the mean duration, or expectation of life at birth.
It is a question how such term of existence, or mean duration, is found. This is done simply by taking the number of years that have been lived through by a party from birth to death, and also by all ages from 1 to 100 years old—the number of years thus lived by each person is added into one sum, and being divided by the number of persons, the mean duration of the life of man is ascertained.
If it were found on trial, that on taking the result of the lives of 1,000 or 10,000 individuals, and deducting the mean duration; and then going through the same process with like numbers, and the mean duration of the latter differed widely from the former, it would be to no purpose to follow out experiments; but this is not the fact, and in nothing is the uniformity of the general laws of nature more powerfully exemplified, than in regulating the period of human existence. The result of experience is constant, that two bodies of individuals, each of 1000, living in the same country, and of similar occupations, have each a period of mean duration, which differs only a trifle from that of the other body. Apply this to insurance on life in the same body of persons; they pay a small sum or premium, annually, and the office, or Company, agrees to pay them annually a profit, and a certain sum at the death of each; as, by example, the average expectancy of life is found by experience, to be of a person in health of 25 years, 38 years more; and of 40 years 28 years longer; then by the tables of rates, the first has to pay $20-40-100 a year during his life, to secure, $1000 to be paid to his wife or children after his death; the second pays $22, to insure the same; then taking the gain of interest, and other items, that make up the profits on Mutual Benefits, it is almost certain the amount of $1000 insured will be much increased, when in the end it is to be paid to his heirs, all which is firmly established by the facts of experience. Life Insurance, therefore, on Mutual Benefits, is not a fictitious scheme to draw people into, for money-making purposes. Such an idea, if it exists, is most incorrect, and dissolved at once by the very fact, that this is a Mutual Benefit Company, and consequently any person taking out a policy, becomes a member by a small annual payment, and has a joint interest in its concerns, and a voice in its management.—Founded on scientific principles, exemplified by experience, its real services then to all classes of persons, who are dependent on certain incomes, or salaries, professions, mechanical skill, or daily labor cannot be denied; and it has proved essentially beneficial to the families of such in event of death, and is therefore an institution ranking among the noblest works of benevolence in the world.
Such being the equitable and beneficial principles on which Mutual Life Insurance is established, it presents a most suitable and favorable means of providing for the endeared and dependent lives of children; for what is the situation of a man, who, for the gratification of his affections, surrounds himself with a wife and children, and lives in the enjoyment of those valued blessings, and knowing that in an instant, the cessation of his life may throw them into a state of destitution? (The neglect, then, of such a cheap and certain provision, is gross improvidence; for it is not more a man's absolute duty, to provide while he lives, the daily bread for his family, than it is against leaving them to suffer penniless misery in the event of his death. It is then a religious as well as moral duty, to be easily accomplished by weekly, monthly, or yearly earnings—and this Life Insurance of Mutual Benefits, is the protection against such dreadful evils.

The observations and explanations above made on the principles of Life Insurance generally, and particularly the great and very superior advantages exhibited to the public by insuring in this Mutual Benefit Company; (the credit which policies will give to men in trade, the gain it may be to all classes in their business vocations, and the duty of all to provide for their families, should induce every person to give this subject a careful consideration, remembering the injunction of Scripture, that "if any provide not for his own, and especially for them of his own house, he hath denied the faith, and is worse than an infidel."

Hydr's Pills.
The American Improved Hygienic Vegetable Medicine.
SAFE, CHEAP, AND EFFECTIVE.—This medicine makes no pretensions to miraculous powers, (the raising of the dead, or to immense and astounding sales daily and hourly, after the most approved method of the times; but bases all its claims upon plain common sense principles, as a simple aid to nature in restoring the human system to its proper tone and action, when by carelessness or unavoidable circumstances it has become deranged or debilitated, and asks simply a faithful trial as a test of its curative properties.—During the last twenty years it has worked its way into extensive use, wholly upon its own merits, by commendation from individual to individual, not having been advertised for more than twelve years till within the past few months—save occasionally in a journal of which the present proprietor is Editor. The increasing demand, however, has measurably compelled greater attention to its business, and agencies are now being established throughout the country.
A faithful trial of a half dollar or dollar package is almost certain to secure use in every family where it is introduced, where medicine is needed. The undersigned has used it in his own family for more than fifteen years—has knowledge of its approved use in many others, (for periods varying from months to fifteen or sixteen years,) as their only medicine, and knows it to be valuable in most of the complaints incident to the human system. But a long or extravagant commendation is not designed or needed here. Ten thousand mere assertions in its favor will not make it valuable, or satisfy reasonable persons without a trial; for the proof, after all, must lie in the use of it. Try it, then. Read, try, and then judge.

Its Oven is large, convenient of access, and having an upward draft, it bakes evenly with a small quantity of fuel.

Coggeshall & Bliss' Patent Cooking Range.
THE subscriber has just taken out letters patent for a new and beautiful cooking Range, to which they invite the attention of the public.
This Range may be set in the ordinary fire place, and by a simple, though effectual apparatus, the throat of the chimney may in an instant of time, be opened or closed, so that the heat in summer and the fumes from cooking at all times may escape through the chimney.
Wood or coal may be used, and the evil of smoking chimneys is completely remedied by its introduction.
This Range is so constructed that it takes up but a small space, and yet it contains all the qualities of those which take up double the amount; and it being constructed as it is, the Boilers are brought in close proximity with the fire, and it consequently boils much sooner, and with a smaller amount of fuel, than the old fashioned Ranges, or cox stoves.
It contains five boilers four of which may be converted into two, by taking out a cross piece, and thus will admit of two large boilers at the same time. It also contains an Oven 12 inches wide by 21 deep, which cannot be surpassed for baking.
The subscriber has one of these Ranges in operation at his store, where the public are invited to call and examine it, and if they will, they must at once discover its utility. He also keeps constantly on hand all kinds of Parlor, Office, and Cook Stoves, Tin Ware, &c., &c.
